Covey Thought...Habit 4 is “Think Win-Win”. Effective long-term relationships require mutual respect and mutual benefit. People who think Win-Win find it easy to share recognition and credit and are happy for the successes of others. Help your students achieve WIN-WIN by teaching them to have the courage to speak their thoughts and feelings while having consideration to seek and listen to other’s thoughts and feelings with respect.

TRY THIS- draft a WIN-WIN agreement with your classes. List the elements of a WIN-WIN agreement: Desired Results, Guidelines, Resources, Accountability (how it will be monitored). and Consequences (both positive and negative).
